

Other Job Search Strategies

Handshake

Use HMC's web-based career management system, powered by Handshake, for viewing full-time, part-time and internship positions in all fields as well as work-study and on-campus jobs.

MuddCompass

Access Mudd's powerful network of diverse alumni who can serve as mentors and supporters as you navigate your path through Mudd and beyond. MuddCompass allows you to connect directly with HMC alumni and with job referrals on the job board.

On-Campus Recruiting

Recruiters come to campus and interview students. Search and sign up for interviews on Handshake.

LinkedIn

Create a LinkedIn profile. Think of your profile as your online business card, your resume and your letters of recommendation all in one! It should include information relevant to your job and internship search. Your major, internship/work experiences, class projects, honor societies and student activities are all relevant.

Job-Posting Websites

There are countless databases available. You can electronically submit application materials that are tailored to positions.

In-Person Company Visits

Visit companies. Ask to see a person in a specific department; bring a resume.

Employment Agencies

Utilize employment agencies or contact those agencies that place applicants on temporary or permanent assignments.

- Altair
- Kelly Engineering Resources
- On assignment and lab support

Professional Associations

Join one or two related to your major. They may offer discount student memberships. Network at meetings, conferences and other events.
