

The President, Trustees, and Faculty of
New York University

GREETING!

We are honored that New York University is in the receipt of your kind invitation to personally extend our congratulations to you at the Inauguration of

Harriet B. Nembhard

President
of

Harvey Mudd College

In honor of this momentous occasion, we have appointed Daniel Esquivel

who has been charged to convey our felicitations and congratulation you as our official representative at the ceremonies. Through such delegation, we would express our hope for both the success of the proceedings and success in your institution's distinguished educational achievements.

As witness our hand and seal given in the city of New York this first day of March, two thousand twenty-four in the one hundred and ninety-third year of New York University.

Andrew G. M.
President
